A TAX RIDDEN PEOPLE.

The St. Louis Democrat, a Radical paper, declares that "industry languishes, and the whole country suffers because of the burdens of taxation."

"They are taxed on their clothing their meat and their bread,
On their carpets, their dishes, their tables and bed,
On their tea and their coffee, their fuel and lights;
They are taxed so severely they can't sleep o' nights.

They are taxed on their offices, stores and their shops,
On their stoves, their wash tubs, their brooms and their mops,
On their shrouds and their tombstones, and after they die,
They are taxed on the coffins in which they must lie.

They are stamped on their mortgages, notes, checks and bills,
On their deeds, on their contracts, and on their last wills;
And the 'Star Spangled Banner' in mourning doth wave,
O'er the wealth of the nation stamped into the grave.

They are taxed on all goods by kind Providence given,
They are taxed on the Bible that points them to Heaven;
And when they ascend to their heavenly goal,
They would, if they could, stick stamps on their soul!"

"MEET GERTRUDE."

The Selma Messenger tells the following capital story as genuine and authentic:

Among the most enterprising and industrious merchants of Selma is one whom we will call Smith, principally because it isn't his name, who is blessed with a most exemplary wife in all respects save one—she is of rather a jealous disposition. Mr. Smith has been of late very much engrossed in his business, and has often consumed his evenings over his ledger instead of in the bosom of his family, as has been his custom for years. In reply to the queries of Mrs. Smith on the subject, he would always say that he was employed in his business. She did not understand how business could take up so much of his time, and her suspicions were aroused that all was not right. Visions of hours spent by her husband in other female society than her own haunted her mind, and she made an inward vow to watch him and see for herself.

Soon after arriving at this resolution a telegram arrived for her husband and was sent to his office, which was closed, as he had gone to his supper. The carrier went to his house and delivered it to the servant at the door. The gentleman not having arrived, it was handed to his wife, who with true feminine curiosity, read it. It was plain and short:

MONTGOMERY, Dec.—, 1867.

MR. SMITH:—Meet Gertrude tonight.

Here was a horrible confirmation of her worst fears. Controlling herself as best she could, she laid the dispatch by his plate. He came in, read it, and said "he would have to go down after supper, and might not be back till late." He hurried through his meal, took his hat, and walked hurriedly down the street. Before he had turned the corner his wife was following him, swiftly and noiselessly. He went straight on, she close behind, until he reached the wharf.

After an apparent inspection of the surroundings, he stepped down the hill and took a seat in the office of the "Magnolia." His wife took a position where she could see him through the glass door, and waited for the finale—which was expected in the shape of the Gertrude whom her faithless spouse was to meet. Time dragged on wearily, and the lady became drowsy and at last fell into a doze, from which she was aroused by the shrill whistle of an approaching steamer.—Nearer and nearer she came, and as she rounded to, the name Gertrude, in large, brightly painted letters, met the view of the jealous wife, and a Stentorian voice, inquiring if Smith was on hand, completed her awakening.

At a glance the position was realized, and the poor woman could have cried for vexation as she saw her husband and another gentleman hurriedly transacting some business within a few feet of her. At that moment a tipsy negro came stumbling along, and seeing a woman's dress half hidden among the bales and boxes of merchandize, seized her, exclaiming! "Come out ob dar, ole gal!" Her scream of terror brought her husband to the scene, whose astonishment may be imagined. She fell into his arms, with a hysterical burst of sobs, and explanations ensued.

The party returned to their home in a hack, and somebody's head was on somebody's bosom all the way.—Since that time, all that Smith has to do to avert a scolding, is to insinuate that he will "meet Gertrude."

AN INCIDENT OF THE DICKENS READINGS.

An incident worth mentioning occurred in Carroll Hall, the second night of the Dickens readings. Ben. Butler entered after the performance had commenced, and walked down the centre aisle while Dickens was describing one of the most interesting scenes in his selections from David Copperfield.—Perhaps Benjamin was unavoidably detained, or perhaps he wished to make his appearance at the time when he could attract that amount of attention which he thinks is due to his eminent abilities and great public services. There are those who adopt this as one of the ways of keeping before the people, some of them men of marked zeal in religious affairs, who never enter the church till the congregation is well seated, and then walk straight to the front pew. If General Butler hadn't his mind's eye on this idea on the occasion referred to, his motives were misunderstood, that's all.

Well, the hero of Bermuda walked down the aisle the observed of all observers, and took his seat in a very select and advantageous part of the hall. The first selection was soon concluded, and Mr. Dickens retired as he was wont to for ten minutes of rest and refreshment. The rustle and bustle consequent upon a relaxation of attention followed.—There were whisperings among the older folks, and flirtings among the younger, in the midst of which up rose Butler from his seat, either to observe or be observed, hard to tell which though I incline to the latter belief. There was no mistaking that bald head, or that strabismic eye. It was Benjamin F. Butler, and nobody else.

The intermission, like all things on this earth, had its end. Dickens appeared and the readings were resumed.—This time it was a selection from Pickwick—the famous Bob Sawyer party scene. It was very funny, as we all know, and the laughing was, at times, immoderate. There was a point, however, at which the laugh became very much like a vulgar roar, and wasn't the funniest part of the readings by any means. Mr. Dickens felt a little confused, I thought, for a man of his nice perceptions knows exactly where the fun comes in, and we all know there is such a thing possible as a laugh at the expense of an actor, which is always more vivid than that provoked by the play. Dickens evidently thought he had blundered. But he hadn't. He had simply read the following colloquy between Hopkins and Noddy—and the audience had just seen Butler, and every one knew he was present:

"I request that you'll favor me with your card sir."

"I'll do nothing of the kind, sir."

"Why not, sir?"

"Because you'll stick it up over your chimney-piece, and delude your visitors into the false belief that a gentleman has been to see you, sir."

"Sir, a friend of mine shall wait on you in the morning."

"Sir, I am very much obliged to you for the caution; and I'll leave particular directions with the servants to look up the spoons."

The laugh, Mr. Dickens, which so exceeded all bounds as to preplex you, was due solely to a connection in the popular mind between General Butler and spoons!—"Mack," Wash. Cor. Cin. Commercial.

IF YOU would have a loving wife be as gentle in your words after as before marriage; treat her quite as tenderly when a matron as when a miss; don't make her the maid of all work and ask her why she looks less tidy and neat than when "you first knew her;" don't buy cheap, tough beef, and scold because it does not come on the table "porter house;" don't grumble about squalling babies if you cannot keep up a "nursery," and remember that "baby may take after its papa" in disposition; don't smoke and chew tobacco, and thus shatter your nerves, and spoil your temper, and make your breath a nuisance, and then complain that your wife declines to kiss you; go home joyous and cheerful to your wife and tell her the good news you have heard, and not silently put on your hat and go to the "club" or "lodge," and let her afterwards learn that you have spent the evening at the opera or at a fancy ball with Mrs. Dash. Love your wife; be patient; remember you are not perfect, but try to be; let whisky, tobacco, and vulgar company alone; spend your evenings with your wife, and live a decent, christian life, and your wife will be loving and true—if you did not marry a heartless beauty without sense or worth; if you did, who is to blame if you suffer the consequences?

THE "KILLQUICK RAILROAD."

The Omaha Herald enlarges upon the superior attraction of this new railroad route, which, it says, has just been completed, and will be open to passenger traffic as soon as a proper agent can be found to sell the tickets. It announces:

Through tickets daily for eternity, and all stations beyond the grave, connecting closely with the ferries at the river Styx, for all points on the other side of Jordan. Passengers should take no other route. The cheapest and shortest way to the tomb. It is with a great deal of pleasure that the officers of this road announce its completion.

This road has been carefully built by experienced workmen, who have graduated at the best slaughter-house in the land. The scenery along the line is remarkably fine, consisting principally of yawning chasms, charming precipices, and shaky trestles. The rails are laid very loose, and without extra spikes, which, when cars are going at full speed, keeps the passenger in delightful motion, settles his dinner, and sometimes his "hash" most effectually.

The coaches are full of wood which in case of accident, always splinters, and thus give passengers holding insurance tickets a chance to make a little money, with an occasional prize, in case of death. The seats are constructed on an entirely new plan, being made in the shape of a coffin, so that the holder of a ticket, in case of accident, can be immediately boxed up and sent home.

The stoves are of a new and unique patent, and known as the Railway Cooking Stoves. It is calculated that, with a good fire a first class passenger can be thoroughly cooked in ten or fifteen minutes, although much more speed can be attained if necessary.

The attention of the traveling public is directed to the new and unique style of tomb stones, furnished by this company to those purchasing through tickets.

A large corps of undertakers at each station, and elegant hearse cars accompany each train.

The sleeping cars upon this road are got up regardless of expenses, and passengers can sleep without fear of being awakened by the noise of their conductors.

In fact, most of our passengers never wake up after once getting to sleep.

Wives having cross husbands, should have them purchase tickets on this route; they will never scold again.

The Government is about to do away with capital punishment, criminals being furnished with tickets over this line.

Death is certain, and the system of hanging is thus avoided.

Revolvers, poison, and butcher knives on each train for the amusement and use of patrons when they are tired of riding.

No repairs are allowed on coaches; the wheels, axles and boilers being used till they break or burst. Coroners on each train.

Collisions inevitable and explosions sure. Persons wishing to reach the mansions in the skies, ask for tickets via this line.

Life insurance tickets furnished gratis those desiring the same.

WADE AND THE PRESIDENCY.

The Constitution of the Union, says the Cincinnati Enquirer, excludes the Vice President from presiding in the Senate when it is organized as a Court of Impeachment for the trial of the President of the United States. In all other impeachments he presides, but in this case the Chief-Justice takes his place at the head of the Senate.—The Reason of it is that, being Vice-President, he would succeed the President if he was successfully impeached, and therefore has a great interest in securing his conviction. BENJIMAN F. WADE, of Ohio, now stands in the position of a Vice-President. He is the President of the Senate. There being no Vice-Prssident, he draws the salary of that office; and in case of the death or removal of the Chief Magistrate, he becomes the President. He has the same interest, therefore, in his removal as the Vice-President. The same constitutional reasons that would prevent a regularly-chosen Vice President from acting in a President's trial applies to Mr. WADE. But the latter cares nothing for the Constitution. He cares nothing for individual decency or self-respect. He insists upon being one of the President's judges, with the temptation before him of the President's office, in case he is convicted. He is admitted to be a deeply interested juror. If his vote secures the impeachment of the President, his salary is increased from $8,000 to $25,000 a year, together with all the immense patronage and power of the office. Under these circumstances, what must be the shameful effrontery of that man who would insist upon being sworn in as a party to decide upon what was really his own case? It cannot be estimated. He must have a cheek of iron and a forehead of brass. But BENJIMAN F. WADE is that man. With an indecency that would almost shame Satan himself, he approaches the bar of the Senate to take an oath only to be given to a fair and disinterested judge.

But, execrable as is his conduct, how much more infamous is that of the Senate itself, which permits such an outrage upon every priciple of justice—such a scandal upon common and ordinary decency—to be consummated? But it does so even without a murmur. A majority of its members are little if any better than WADE. They have prejudged and decided the case in advance against the President. Without hearing a word from the party accused—with no trial whatever—before any impeachment—the Senate decided, by resolution, that the Persident had violated the Constitution by the removal of STANTON, and the appointment of General THOMAS, as Secretary of War. Thus the President appears, for what is called a trial, before a body of judges who are either interested against him, or who, in advance of any trial, have made up their minds in the case! It is such a body—such an organization—that the Radical press calls a High Court of Impeachment.

A DARKEY JURY.—At a recent session of the court in South Carolina, an entire colored jury was empanelled. A case was brought before them—the witnesses examined and the attorneys made their respective arguments. The Judge after laying down the law, and recapitulating the testimony, gave the papers into the hands of the foreman—an intelligent looking darkey—with instructions to bring in a verdict without delay.

Thirty minutes or more elapsed when the Jury returned, headed by the foreman, and stood before the Judge.

As the foreman appeared to hesitate, and to wear a disappointed look, the Judge asked—

"Mr. Foreman, have you found a verdict?"

"No Massa Judge, we haven't found 'em," replied the ebony juryman.

"It's a very plain case," said the Judge.

"Can't help it, massa, couldn't see it."

"On what grounds?"

"We didn't look into the grounds, Massa Judge," replied the puzzled foreman; "de ossifer didn't take us out into the grounds, but he took us into a room, and locked us in and told us when we found de verdict, he would luff us out. So we began to find de verdict, and we searched every nook, corner, crebice, and everything dar was in dat room, but we found no verdict—no, Massa Judge, dar was no verdict—noffin of de kind dar."

TWO WESTERN HUNTERS, named Hoffman and Cowan, both good shots, and not a little given to boasting of their skill, went out one day on a deering expedition. Shortly after separating in the woods, Hoffman heard Cowan's gun fired off,—when he went to the spot, expecting to help Cowan hang up a deer.—He found him loading his gun, and shouted out,—

"Hallow, Cowan! what did you shoot at just now?"

"None o' your business: go along over the hill."

Surprised at this crusty answer, Hoffman looked around, and discovered a calf among the bushes. Again he cried out,—

"I say Cowan, did you shoot at the calf?"

"Yes, I did; but it's none o' your business."

"Why what made you shoot at it?"

"Why, I took it for a deer."

"Well, did you hit it?"

"No: I missed it."

"How did you miss it?"

"Why, I wasn't quite sure that it wasn't a calf."

"You are a pretty specimen of a hunter," rejoined Hoffman, "to shoot at a calf for a deer, and miss it at that!"

"Don't make a fool of yourself," replied Cowan; "I shot at it just so as to hit it if it was a deer, and miss it if it was a calf."

"Where are you going with that miserable animal?" asked a traveler of a farmer who was dragging a lean, wretched-looking horned sheep along the road.

"I am taking him to the 'mutton-mill,' to have him ground over," said the farmer.

"The mutton-mill! I never heard of such a thing. I will go with you and witness the process."

They arrived at the mill. The sheep was thrown alive into the hopper, and almost immediately disappeared. They then descended to a lower apartment, and in a few moments there were ejected from a spout in the ceiling, four quarters of excellent mutton, two sides of morocco leather, a wool hat of the first quality, a sheep's head (handsomely dressed,) and two elegantly carved powder-horns.

—"Dan. Sickles" recently spoke his piece at Manchester, N. H., and to quiet some loud talk among the ladies in the gallery, the chairman banged away upon the desk declaring that "if the ladies want to hear they must keep quiet." To which one of the ladies replied, in clear, ringing voice, "We didn't come to hear, we came to see the murderer." Poor Dan. was as white as a sheet, and his speech was felt by his friends to be a failure. He talked as though the ghost of a murdered man hung before his eyes.

—Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois, was the first fool or knave to offer troops to the Rump Congress. Geary is only a base imitator, and even copied, nearby verbatim, Oglesby's first sentence.

HEAVES IN HORSES.—We would remind our readers that horses, fed in part on carrots, never suffer from heaves; they will be found to have a silky coat as well as a loose hide, and enjoy far better health than when hay and oats alone are used. Three quarts of carrots and three quarts of oats will sustain a horse much better than six quarts of oats. When the carrots form part of the feed, all the oats will be digested and assimilated; whereas, when oats alone are fed, the dung will be found to contain whole oat shells, undecomposed starch, amounting to more than half the quantity of oats consumed.

The floor of every cutting box should be ribbed or opened, so as to permit all dust to pass down before the hay reaches the cutting knives.

Many horses are rendered asthmatic by being fed dusty hay, and, consequently, every means calculated to remove the dust should be resorted to.

LABELS FOR FRUIT TREES.—We have found the following receipt, taken from an English work, to make an indelible Ink, for writing on zinc, and one not affected by the weather. Cut up the common sheet zinc into strips about half an inch wide by 2 or 3 inches long, and write with a quill pen. The zinc should previously be made bright. Through a hole at one end introduce a thin copper wire, long enough to encircle a branch or limb, and it will remain for years, giving to the owner of a newly planted orchard the satisfaction of knowing, at all times, his varieties. Care in respect to labels would obviate much of the confusion in all parts of the country, as to correct nomenclature.—"Take a drachm of Verdegris, 1 drachm Sal-ammonia powder and half a drachm of Lamp black, and mixed with 10 drachms of water." Shake before using.

APPLYING PLASTER.—A correspondent of the Massachusetts Ploughman having asked to be informed of the most proper season of the year for the application of plaster to pasture lands for renovation; also, the best method of applying the same, the best quantity per acre necessary for a fair trial, and the quality of land to which it is adapted—the editor replied as follows:

We think the early spring the best season, say the latter part of March or early in April. We would sow broadcast at the rate of about two hundred pounds to the acre. Hilly pastures, with a northern aspect and a moist, mossy soil, are most benefitted by its application. On granite soil or soils throughout the gneiss formation, which usually contain more or less potash, plaster works promptly and effectively. But on locations where it has not been found to work so well, it should be applied in connection with wood ashes.

"Where plaster has any perceptible effect at all, it brings in a luxurant growth of white clover and otherwise improves the grasses. Many farmers apply it regularly once in two years, and find it the cheapest and most economical dressing they can apply. It ought to be fresh ground. The dark variety is thought to be the strongest and best.

FODDER FOR STOCK.—It is probable that considerable land designed for corn the present Spring will fail to be planted on account of the prevalence of wet weather. In such case, it would be a good plan to sow corn for fodder purposes. Good land will produce a heavy burthen of this kind of food for cattle. It is especially good for dairy stock, and may be fed in a green or in a dry state. The sweet variety is considered the best, and it is richer and eaten more readily than any other. What is not used in a green state may be cut and dried for winter use. It may be fed whole, or cut up and mixed with something else, as circumstances shall dictate.

FIELD WORK.—Clover and Grass seed may be sown on the winter grain. Grain and grass fields may be rolled as soon as the frost is out, thus resetting the roots laid bare by the action of the frost and wind, and sinking the small stones. Plowing and harrowing may be done when the ground is dry enough. Potatoes may be planted on warm, early land, being goodsized seed not cut small, and if cut at all left some days to "hoal" before planting.

WHAT PLEASURE IS IT TO PAY ONE'S DEBTS.--It seems to flow from a combination of circumstances. It removes that uneasiness which a true spirit feels from dependence and obligation. It affords pleasure to the creditor, and therefore gratifies our social affection. It promotes the future confidence which is so very interesting to the honest mind; it opens a prospect of being really supplied with what we want on future occasions; it leaves a consciousness of our own virtue; and it is a measure we know to be right, both in point of justice and sound economy. Finally, it is the main support of a business reputation.

—Sumner declares that "before we stop we shall have a stable government."—Judging from the number of asses at the Capital, we are in need of such a convenience.

—If nature had intended that our young ladies should bring their waists to a circumference of twelve inches, she would have dispensed with a double set of vital organs.

—The large and extensive rolling and nail mill at Bellair, Ohio, was burned on Sunday morning at 4 o'clock—supposed to be the work of incendiarism. Loss upwards of $50,000, partially covered by insurance.

—The Radical conspirators have already made up Ben Wade's Cabinet, in anticipation of the overthrow of President Johnson for attempting to get a legal decision upon the Tenure of Office act.

DEMOCRATIC STATE NOMINATIONS.

FOR AUDITOR GENERAL,

HON. CHARLES E. BOYLE,

of Fayette County.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL,

GEN. WELLINGTON H. ENT,

of Columbia County.

JEFF. DAVIS' BAIL RELEASED.

The bail of Jefferson Davis has been released, and he is now at liberty, on his own recognizance. Judge Underwood, the judicial puppet of the Radical leaders, has done this job of work. Thus is "treason made odious." The "great criminal" (vide Radical newspapers and platforms of a few years ago) travels about the country untried and unpunished. It appears to be no longer a crime to have insisted that the Seceded States were out of the Union, or to have led a gigantic rebellion against the Government; but it seems now to be treason of the deepest dye, to hold that those States did not succeed in their effort to leave the Union, and that they were preserved in the Union by force of arms. Jefferson Davis is not to be tried for treason as the President of the so-called Confederate States; but Andrew Johnson is to be tried for "high crimes and misdemeanors," for endeavoring to act as President of the United States! Jeff. Davis goes scot free for insisting, at the point of the bayonet, that the Seceded States are out of the Union, whilst Andrew Johnson is to be kicked out of the Executive chair, for insisting, on paper, that those States are in the Union! Such is the conduct of Radicalism, in a nut-shell, since the close of the war. In some countries, people who act in this style, are put in mad-houses.

COLFAX.

Schuyler Colfax, everybody knows, is the Speaker of the House of Representatives at Washington. It will be remembered that at the close of the war, shortly after the assassination of Mr. Lincoln, Speaker Colfax startled the country by an expedition across the plains, including a visit to Brigham Young and family, and a politico-theological discussion with Brigham, in which Schuyler came off second best. On his safe return, he gave an account of his exploits for 25 cents, including some gratuitous abuse of Andrew Johnson for not calling Congress in Extra Session, while he was gone, although before starting, he counselled the President against it. Colfax is now the favorite of a great many radicals for Vice President. They want a courageous and self-reliant statesman for Vice President in case any accident should happen to Grant. Even Stanton, who munches his solitary morsel in the War Office, inspired by a lofty sense of duty (and booty), is not held in the same esteem with Schuyler. His flatterers sometimes compare him to Henry Clay, who also presided over the House, on the same principle, perhaps, that you might call a bug a man's bedfellow. Since his timely notice to the House, the other day, that they were in imminent danger of being blown into the air, Schuyler's stock has risen considerably in the political market. He may be safely put down as the Nigro-nitro-glycerine candidate for Vice President.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

As every where else, so also in New Hampshire, the Democrats have made large gains. In the largest vote ever polled in the State (about 77,000) the Radical candidate has but 2,500 majority. Last year in a vote of 67,000, his majority was 3,146 and in 1866, about 6,000. This result shows that the Democrats are steadily gaining ground in the Granite state, and we have no doubt that the Radicals will lose the state at the Presidential election. We predict that there will not be more than 73,000 votes cast in the State at the November election, and as the Democrats have upwards of 37,000, they will carry the State. At the Presidential election the Rads. will need all the votes they imported from Maine and Massachusetts, to carry these States. It is an indisputable fact that the Radical vote was increased in New Hampshire, only in the border towns. The Boston Traveler, a Radical paper, says that the State was carried by money, some two hundred thousand dollars having been sent thither. In spite of this the Rads have lost since last year, nearly 700 of their majority. The Democrats have also made handsome gains in the Legislature. Last year the House stood, Rads., 292; Democrats, 128; Radical majority, 74. Now it stands, Rads., 192; Democrats, 138; Radical majority, 54; Democratic gain, 20. This will do for the present. New Hampshire will be all right in due time.

THE BOARDER IN THE WAR OFFICE.

E. M. Stanton eats, drinks and sleeps in the War Office. He fears to stir an inch from his desk, lest Thomas, the real Secretary of War, should step in and take his place. Poor devil! He knows that he is in the wrong, that he is a usurper. He knows that if Thomas gets possession, in person, that force alone can oust him (Thomas) and reinstate himself (Stanton). If he can rely upon his legal right to hold the office, why does he not go to his family, like an honest white man, and eat and sleep under his own roof-tree? Ah! there's the rub! He dares not rely upon legal measures, but pettifogger-like, he concludes that "possession is nine-tenths of the law," and so he keeps possession. But, never mind! The writ of ejectment will issue after awhile.

FACTS!

An exchange thus gives us a string of stubborn facts:

It is a fact that Stanton declared that the Tenure of Office bill under which he holds office, was unconstitutional!

It is a fact that Gens. Grant and Sherman have urged Stanton to leave the Cabinet.

It is a fact that Stanton remains in the Cabinet out of personal not patriotic motives.

It is a fact that the impeachment resolutions were caused by spite, and by no other reason!

It is a fact that John Sherman, and other Republican Senators, said no gentleman would want to remain in the Cabinet, if the President did not want him to do so.

It is a fact that Sumner, Wade, and others who are to try the President, have already made up their verdict, and the trial will only be a sham!

THE SUPREME COURT MUZZLED.

The Radical Congress has passed the bill to choke off the Supreme Court from rendering a decision upon the question whether or not the Reconstruction acts are unconstitutional. A pretty set of legislators they are, indeed! First they pass laws, outrageous and unconstitutional on the face of them, and then they pass another law to prevent the Judiciary from passing judgment on the validity of those laws! The devil himself wouldn't trust such men; but the blind and foolish people seem to regard their doings in the light of an excellent joke. But, thank God! the decision of the Supreme Court is not needed so far as Alabama and Arkansas, are concerned.

RESULT IN THE COUNTY.

The Spring elections in this county, on Friday last, were contested with unusual spirit. About 4,000 votes were polled, and on Inspectors (the usual test) the Democratic majority is upward of 500. We have gained two Judges of Election over last year, certain, and perhaps, three. The Democrats of the county deserve great credit for their activity.

For the Gazette.

The Short Cut.

The great impeachers are like the ox in the bog mire. The more they rant, swear and struggle to oust their President, the deeper they sink in the mud and slough of despond. To obtain complete radical negro rule, and ruin over the country, why not take the short cut. Send Grant with his army and the navy of the United States, and ship the whites of the ten Southern States, men, women and children, to South America. This would give the blacks a fine country, with plenty of elbow room, to vote and keep the Abolition amalgamation party forever in power. What fun the white, strongminded ladies of Massachusetts, would have, fooling 'round with loyal niggers. The cost to the government, or rather the New England States, would be a gain of many millions in the course of five years. Cotton would be king again in earnest over would-be free labor, and many a poor "wooden nut meg" yankee would go to the Halls of Congress on the votes of the blind "woolly heads;" though it would involve the destruction of the noblest and bravest people on earth. This would be Republicanism, this would be christianity, in the eyes and hearts of those who have made a league with the Devil and a covenant with Hell.

A LOOKER ON.

Listen to the Mocking Bird!

Hear what the Radical party advocates, and see how you like it:

1. A National debt.
2. Increased taxation.
3. Untaxed bonds for the rich.
4. High protective tariff for New England manufactures.
5. Shinplasters for the poor.
6. Gold for the bondholder.
7. Negro mongrelism at the polls and in the jury-box.
8. Disfranchisement of foreign voters.
9. Military satraps at an expense of one hundred million dollars to the Government, instead of civil officers paid by the States.
10. Negro Senators and negro Congressmen.
11. Negro judges, negro jurors.
12. Trials by military commissions, instead of civil courts.
13. The right of Congress to change our form of government and establish a military despotism over the old Union.
14. The right of Congress to force negro equality on all the States without regard to the will of the people.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

From the Daily Age.

The President's answer to the Articles of Impeachment; The Alabama Bill; Command of the Fifth District; Radicals alarmed, &c., &c.

The counsel of the President have nearly completed his answer to the articles of impeachment. It is considered by certain prominent lawyers, who have been made acquainted with its outlines, as very strong indeed, and such as the President can rest confidently upon for a favorable verdict from the people, even though the Senate should vote for conviction. It is understood that Mr. Evarts is preparing an argument for a continuance of the case, which he expects to make on Monday next. The House managers are still at work making up their side of the question. Butler is preparing the opening of argument, that task having been assigned to him. Bingham will close the case by virtue of his new position as "Head Centre" of the "Impeachment Conspirators."—The House to-day resolved not to transact any business on the days set apart for the impeachment trial, but attend at the Bar of the Senate in a body during the proceedings thereon.

Notwithstanding Mr. Stevens' move in the House the other day, in having the Alabama bill recommitted to the so-called Reconstruction Committee, it is apparent that those in favor of the measure are determined to press it to a vote, and the indications still are that it will pass by a considerable majority. Mr. Farnsworth endeavored to report it back from the Committee this afternoon, but was prevented by the opposition of the Radicals around him, who first desired to go to business on the Speaker's table. It will probably come up on Monday or Friday next.

Among the rumors current here is one to the effect that the President will place General Hancock in command of the Department of Washington, thus relieving General Emory, and that General Halleck will be assigned to the command of the Fifth Military District, in place of General Hancock. The Radicals hereabouts believe this rumor, and claim that it indicates a disposition on the part of the President to prepare for any emergency that may arise during the progress of the impeachment trial.

P. S.—Since writing the above, I hear that General Gordon Granger will probably be assigned to the command of the Department of Washington, in place of General Emory, who will be ordered to another field of duty.

From the Pittsburg Post.

WASHINGTON, March, 19.

The Radical leaders are in tribulation about financial measures and prospects.

Sherman, the other day, when a proposition was before the Senate looking to the expenditure of several millions, warned the Senate of breakers ahead, and this he did on information which reached him that day. He takes a cheerless view of the situation, as does Washburne, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, who said in the House to-day, he could not see where the money was to be raised to meet the extravagant appropriations by the House, and this, too, he added, when the Radical party will be held responsible for all legislation.

Secretary McCulloch notified the Finance Committee of the Senate that if the House bill, which repeals by wholesale the Internal Revenue tax on manufactures, becomes a law, the revenues of the country will be insufficient to meet the interests of the public debt and the current expenses of the Government. It, however, passed the Senate to-day with immaterial amendments.

The bill for the continuance of the Freedman's Bureau having passed, this and the enormous expenditures for the support of the military establishments in the south, together with the stealings of the Radical officials, will absorb such a vast amount of revenue that it is probable a new loan will be required to meet the deficiency.

STRAWS.

The Wind Blowing in the Right Direction.

Our Right Makes Our Might.

Democratic Triumphs and Democratic Gains Everywhere.

The Democrats Carry Harrisburg, York, Titusville, Corry, Washington, Lebanon and Middletown.

HARRISBURG, March 20.—The Democracy elected their city ticket to-day by an average majority of five hundred. This is a Democratic gain over last fall of three hundred and twenty-five (325). A full vote was polled. Everybody is too jubilant for this sphere.

YORK, Pa., March 20.—David Small, the Democratic candidate, was elected Chief Burgess to-day by three hundred and ninety-six majority. This is the largest Democratic majority ever given in this borough, and is a gain over last fall of thirty-eight (38.)

TITUSVILLE, March 20.—At the city elections held to-day in Corry and Titusville, the Democrats elected the Mayors and a majority of the members of Councils in both places. At the last election, Corry gave Williams (Rad.) ninety-two majority.

WASHINGTON, Pa., March 20.—In this borough the whole Democratic ticket was successful. The result shows a large Democratic gain over last spring. E.

MIDDLETOWN, March 21.—Col. John McCreary, the Democratic candidate, was elected Chief Burgess of Middletown, on Friday last, by a majority of 91, a gain of 121 votes since last fall. The South and Middle wards were carried by the Democrats.

LEBANON, March 21, 1868.—At the election yesterday, John H. Bressler was elected Burgess, and J. Richert Assistant, by 30 majority—a gain of 110 votes for the Democracy.

THE LADY'S FRIEND FOR APRIL. – A beautiful and pathetic steel Engraving "Caught by the Tide," is the leading embellishment in the April number of this "Queen of the Monthlies;" it is a story in itself. This is followed by the usual refined and elegant double steel Fashion Plate—so superior to Fashion Plates generally. "The Day after the Failure," is a touching picture. Of course, there are numerous engravings devoted to Fashions, and to different styles of the ladies' and children's dresses, &c. The music for this month is the popular song, "Lady, do not Trust the Stranger," which is worth itself the price of the number. The literary contents are excellent as usual; among them we may specify "The Work of a Day," by Mrs. Hosmer; "Widows versus Doctors," by Frances A. Shaw; "A Dead Man's Rule," by Elizabeth Prescott; "My last courtship;" "Arry's Philopœna;" Editorials, The Fashions, Receipts, &c., &c. Price (with engraving) $2.50 a year; Four copies (with one engraving) $6.00. One copy of the Lady's Friend and one of that popular weekly, the Saturday Evening Post (and one engraving), $4.00. Address Deacon & Peterson, 318 Walnut Street, Philadelphia. Sample copies, 15 cents.

THE OLD GUARD.—We have upon our table, the April number of this sprightly and interesting magazine. Its contents are "The President's Powers of Removal without the consent of the Senate," "Mongrel Rule and Ruin," "The Tree of Life," "Sleep, Darling, Sleep," "Astorre Manfredi," "Dead Under the Roses," "Maunderings," "Guess Who," "Who Killed King Cotton?" "Rosemary and Pansies," "Histories," "Types of Mankind," "Hope," "The Memphis 'Baptist' on Anthropology," "Book Table," and "Editor's Table." Address Van Evrie, Horton & Co., 162 Nassau st., New York.

ANOTHER NEGRO OUTRAGE.—Last week a negro named William Christy was taken before the Mayor, charged with assault and battery upon a daughter of Mr. Bernard Campbell, aged eleven years, with intent to ravish. The little girl made a frank and full statement of the fact. She said that about eight o'clock on Tuesday evening, as she was walking along South street, Christy asked her if she could tell him the whereabouts of McFadden's store, and offered her ten cents if she would show him the store. She consented, and while on the road he offered to give her twenty-five cents if she would kiss him, and upon her refusing, he put his hand on her mouth, threw her down, choked and kicked her. In default of $1,500 bail, Christy was committed to prison to answer at the next term of court.—Patriot and Union.

Arkansas Vote on the Constitution---Shooting Affair.

MEMPHIS, March 20.—Election returns from Arkansas are meagre. Opponents of the constitution claim that it will be defeated by at least 15,000. Monroe and Philips counties, it is reported, give majorities in favor of the constitution.

At Helena, Arkansas, yesterday, Bart. Turner, sheriff, attempted to arrest a negro who had recently killed three negroes in an adjoining county. The negro drew a revolver and shot Turner through the body, knocking him off his mule, which the negro mounted and fled to the hills, where he was pursued by a posse. On their attempt to arrest him he fired, wounding Wm. Sebastian. The negro was held at bay until a squad of soldiers arrived, who fired upon him, wounding him severely. He was captured and carried to Helena. None of the wounded were dead at last accounts.

GENERAL MCCLELLAN GETS A PRIZE.—A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette, tells this story: "Few persons are aware that General McClellan, whom President Johnson has designated as minister from the United States to this country, is of Scotch descent, and that his father was cousin-german to the late Lord Clyde. Miss Alicia Campbell, the sister of that gallant field-marshal, having died intestate in December, 1864, General McClellan proved himself to be her nearest of kin, and as heir to Miss Campbell he will receive that portion of the Banda and Kirwee prize money which Lord Clyde left to his sister."

—From Kansas City we learn that Andrew McGuire, who is styled a noted guerilla and is alleged to have been concerned in the late Bank robbery at Richmond, Missouri, was taken from the jail, at the latter place, on Tuesday night, by six persons in disguise, calling themselves a Vigilance Committee, and hanged.

—Late advices from Mexico via Havana represent the several Spanish officers in the Mexican service are implicated in the attempt to assassinate Juarez. The plan is said to have been arranged by Santa Anna, Marquez and others in the interest of Ortega. Some of the officers we are told will be shot.

BEDFORD BOROUGH ELECTION!

A Glorious Result!

The election in this place, on Friday last, resulted in the overwhelming success of the Democratic ticket. For this auspicious result, we are indebted to the faithfulness of the borough Democracy, and to the praiseworthy conduct of a considerable number of conservative and sensible Republicans, who find it necessary, in self defence, to vote with the Democrats. Over such we do not triumph, for they helped us to gain the victory. The vote was as follows:

THE VICTORY IN NAPIER.—The Democrats of Napier tp., achieved a glorious triumph at the election on Friday last. The majority for Judge of Election, was 69, a gain of 21 over Sharswood's maj. Our young friend, James Sill, was elected School Director, by 82 majority over G. Hull.

NAPIER TP., March 21, 1868.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—As the election for township officers came off yesterday, I have thought you would be anxious to know the result in this township, and I concluded I would give you a few items for your satisfaction. In the first place each party had a ticket composed of good men, and it was thought, under the existing circumstances of the township, that it would make a close run, but the old Democracy became aroused, and, after they heard of the expression of your town's "gas bag," leetle Johnny Cessna, that "in Napier the Democracy had become so rotten that he would defy them to elect a Democratic School Director," they pitched in with heart and soul in the good work and elected their whole ticket, with the exception of one supervisor, giving the largest majority that has been given in the township for several years. Our School Directors, that young and faithful Democrat, James A. Sill, and that old veteran war-horse, Wm. Rock, sen., being elected by large majorities, Sill having the same as the Judge. Rock being a "no bounty" man was cut some. There was not a full vote polled, but if there had been, our majority would have been increased instead of diminished. I consider that John Cessna is doing much more good now for the cause of Democracy than he ever did when he belonged to the party, for whenever he attempts to pile up a Republican majority he is certain to pull it down.—We will have an election board, next fall, that will do honor to the township, three against two, and the "Republican" Inspector, (that standing candidate for Sheriff,) A. B. Dennison, may make use of all the gas he contains and it will have no effect upon the other officers of the board, John A Burns, as Judge, and William Crisman as Inspector.

Yours, truly, Q, IN THE CORNER.

DEMOCRATIC TRIUMPH IN SAXTON. The following is gratifying news to the Democracy:

SAXTON, Mar. 21, 1868.

MR. EDITOR: Below is a list of our Borough officers just chosen. We have elected our whole ticket. If the balance of the county does as we have done, all may yet be well. Inquiry was made of one of the Rads., why they were not stirring up their men. The reply was, we took a census of the town and found it of no use:

Chief Burgess—John McKillips.
Ass't Burgess—John Caffry.
Councilmen, N. Hissong, J. A Raum, F. M. Amos, S. S. Fluck, John Harris.
School Directors—John Fulton, E. H. Turner.
Judge of Election—C. S. Faxon.
Inspector—John Harris.
Justice of the Peace—J. L. Prince.
Assessor—E. H. Turner.
Constable—M. H. Harris.
Auditor—A Fulton.

Respectfully yours,
A VOTER.

This will save considerable trouble.

THE BEDFORD AND BRIDGEPORT RAILROAD. WHY AND HOW IT SHOULD BE BUILT.—The following article is from the pen of a gentleman fully conversant with the business of constructing railroads, and we give place to it with pleasure, as we will to any article upon this subject:

MESSRS. EDITORS:—The value, if not the necessity, of railroads to a community, is so generally conceded that it is useless to advocate them, but there are some truths in regard to them that are not generally realized.

The first is that the owners of real estate in the vicinity of the road, and not the shareholders in the company, as such, are most benefitted by the construction of the road, and to such an extent is this the case, that while the shares in many roads have proved worthless, we do not know a railroad whose completion has not been attended by a rise in the value of real estate along and near the line of the road, more than sufficient of itself to pay the cost of building the road.

Secondly, each community will henceforth be compelled to build its own roads, excepting in the case of a few important trunk lines, whose construction is necessary for the prosperity of the cities connected by them, and such connecting roads as railway companies are compelled to build in order to prevent the diversion of their trade. The dream that the people of Pennsylvania have indulged, ever since the commutation of the tonnage tax, that the Penna. R. R. Co. would build all the roads they wanted, has at last been dispelled, it is hoped, forever, and those who desire railroads must obtain them as they obtained their property, by investing their means in them.

Thirdly, the interests of a community are best served by the ownership of the railroads residing in the community itself.

Admitting the foregoing premises, and that Bedford County has not such railroad accommodations as are essential to its prosperity, the question arises: In what railway enterprise should the people of this county invest their means?

In answer, the following reasons for preferring the proposed road from the town of Bedford to Bridgeport, on the route of the Pittsburg and Connellsville Railroad, are submitted:

As to distance, supposing the distance from Bedford to Bridgeport to be 22 miles, then the distance to Baltimore by that route will be 214 miles against 235 by the way of Huntingdon, and to Pittsburg 158 against 203 via Huntingdon, while to Washington, via the branch now being constructed from Point of Rocks, the saving will be much greater, and these markets both for buying and selling are as good as the more distant ones of Philadelphia and N. York.

By this route another coalfield will be opened to Bedford, furnishing better coal than the Broad Top coal, and the more scarce and expensive article of lumber will be obtained more easily and conveniently.

The cost per mile of the proposed route is much less than from Bedford to Mt. Dallas, making it a more profitable investment; for on the supposition that there would be the same amount of traffic on either line, and that the line to Bridgeport will cost one-third more than the other, the earnings of the former would be three times as great, making the proportion of earnings to the capital invested 2¼ times as great.

This project is not antagonistic to the extension of the H. & B. T. R. R. to Bedford, but will render that extension certain; first, by endangering the prosperity of that road in its present condition so that the completion of the road to Bedford will be necessary to prevent the loss of a large portion of its most profitable business, and, secondly, by creating a considerable addition to the business, it would have, if completed alone to Bedford, and the prospect of this large increase would enable that company to obtain the necessary means.

If these reasons are sufficient for preferring the line to Bridgeport before others, the all important question remains, How can the means be obtained to build it, if no help can be obtained from abroad?

There are, we think, twenty men, at least, in the town of Bedford, who are abundantly able to invest $1000 each in the stock of the company. As many more can contribute $500 each, and an equal number $250 each, on the average, making a total of $35,000, and the townships through which the proposed route lies can, without difficulty, contribute the following amounts:

Bedford Township,	$30,000
Napier "	$20,000
Harrison "	$8,000
Londonderry "	$13,000

Making, with the town of Bedford, the sum of $106,000, and other townships might be relied upon to contribute enough to cover any excess in the foregoing estimate.

The second resort, which should be only auxiliary to private subscription, is a county subscription to the capital stock of the company, upon the following plan, which we think the only proper one.

1st. No bonds to be issued, but the subscription to be paid in in such a number of instalments as will prevent the tax for the purpose from being oppressive.

2d. Separate receipts to be given for the railway tax, these receipts to be transferable as any other personal property, and convertible into private stock whenever presented to the secretary of the company, in amounts equal to one or more shares of the capital stock.

3d. The county to be represented in the meetings of the shareholders by a proxy who shall vote on the amount of county subscription paid up and not converted into private stock.

4th. The assessed value of taxable property in Bedford county, is about 3½ millions of dollars. A tax of five mills per dollar on this amount for six years, added to a private subscription of the amount indicated above, would place the finances of the company on such a footing that its bonds for the amount required to finish and equip the road could be disposed of without difficulty at high rates, and not only the completion of the road but its success as a dividend paying investment ensured.,

GROWING OLD.—How stealthy the years creep upon us, one by one, until some day we are startled to find ourselves grown old! It is curious to see what different estimates people put on old age at different periods of their lives. To the youth in his teens the man of middle age appears quite antiquated, but when he himself arrives at forty years he can scarce believe he is no longer young, and is astonished to see so many who were but infants the other day, now jostling him as full grown men in the race of life. Said one gentleman to another in our hearing: "What has become of all the old men? When you and I were boys there were many old men about, but they seem to be all gone." "Ah," said his friend, with a smile, "ask these youngsters where the old men are. They'll tell you—and you will find yourself among them!"

WHOLESALE HAT AND CAP STORE.—We call the attention of our mercantile friends to the card of Mr Max. Kinkead, with the old established firm of Chas. Henderson and Son, manufacturers and dealers in Hats, Caps, Furs and Straw Goods, 412 Market st., Philadelphia. Mr. Kinkead was, until recently, Assistant Engineer of the H. & B. T. R. R. Co., and is doubtless known to many of our readers. We advise our merchants to give him a call.

PEOPLE in want of wall paper, will find a large and well assorted stock at the Inquirer Book Store.

THE LAST HOAX.—A native of the Emerald Isle, a constant reader of the GAZETTE, conversing with one of the citizens of this place, upon the improvements which have been made here within the last year or two, the INQUIRER BOOK STORE was suggested as one of the most important and one that supplied a great want, when the man of the brogue exclaimed, "Be me sowl, I've read in the GAZETTE about that same Book Store, but I tawght it was one of Meyers' hoaxes upon thim fellows!"

GREY hairs, although accounted an honor by the old, have never been so considered with respect to the middle aged or young. These can be easily remedied by the use of "Barrett's Vegetable Hair Restorative." The only thorough renewer and preventive of all diseases of the scalp.—Ogdensburg Journal.

MUSHROOM PERFUMES.—Of the swarm of inferior perfumes got up to compete with Phalon's "Night-Blooming Cereus," scarcely even the memory remains. They are literally forgotten, while the sales of that ne plus ultra of all fragrance constantly increases.—Winsted Herald.

FAIRBANK'S STANDARD SCALES.—These popular Standard Scales, which have just received an additional indorsement at the Paris Exposition, where they carried off the Gold Medal and the highest honor over all competitors from the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, &c., are the most perfect mechanical arrangement ever adopted for all kinds of weighing. They have found their way into every city, town and village in our own land and in all parts of Europe, where they are rapidly superseding all other scales, but as they are the most durable and perfectly finished scale extant, we do not wonder at the demand for them. The depot for these scales in Pittsburg is on the corner of Wood and Second Streets, where a full assortment of the different kinds can be found, including standard weights and measures. Read the advertisement.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENTS.—We have placed our books and accounts in the hands of John P. Reed, Esq., of this place, for collection. All accounts for subscription for the year ending August 1, 1868, remaining unpaid, are included in the bills which Mr. Reed is authorized to collect. We have been compelled to resort to this course in order to obtain a settlement of our accounts. We have too much to do to attend to making out bills, and we are tired of dunning. Money we must have, as we have many debts to pay, and we desire to act honestly with our creditors. Therefore, we ask all to pay Mr. Reed, who can, and those who cannot, we ask to call and settle. If there is any thing in their accounts by which they consider themselves aggrieved, let them call on us, and we will make all right that is not right. Friends, let us have the old scores wiped out, and begin anew.

NEW PRESS!—FANCY JOB PRINTING!—Printing in Colors!—Cards, Billheads, Notes, Bank-Checks, Blanks of all kinds, &c., &c.—We have just had set up in our office, one of the latest improved Gorden's Fast Job Presses, and have, also, purchased a new assortment of Fancy Job Type. Thus prepared, we are now able to do all kinds of Job Work, from the daintiest card to the most showy poster. These improvements have cost us considerable outlay, and we now say to our friends and the public, generally, bring on your work, if you appreciate enterprise! We can do any kind of work done in the city offices and just as cheap as city printers do it. Horse-bills printed in all styles. Call at the GAZETTE office, and see our improvements;

PROSPECTUS
1868. "THE AGE," 1868
"THE AGE."
A Democratic Daily and Weekly Journal in Philadelphia.
The attention of the Democrats and Conservative-citizens of the country is called to the Daily and Weekly issues of this widely circulated journal. The dissemination of sound political doctrines should command the earnest attention of every true friend of the Union and the Constitution. The events of the past political year are full of significance. The uprising of The People in opposition to the destructive policy of Radicalism, clearly shows that the masses are determined to restore again to power the great Democratic party, every page of whose history is filled with the glory and prosperity of our common country. No more effectual method for presenting the Truth can be devised, than in circulating Democratic journals. It is the intention of the Proprietors of The Age to make it, in every way worthy of the support and confidence that have heretofore been extended to it. Improvements are contemplated in every department, and no pains or expense will be spared to keep it in the front rank of American journalism.
The Daily Age contains the latest intelligence from all parts of the world, with articles on Government, Politics, Trade, Finance, and all the current questions of the day; Local Intelligence, Market Reports, Prices Current, Stock Quotation, Marine and Commercial Intelligence, Reports of Public Gatherings, Foreign and Domestic Correspondence Legal Reports, Book Notices, Theatrical Criticisms, Reviews of Literature, Art and Music, Agricultural Matters, and discussions of whatever subjects are of general interest and importance. Besides Special Telegrams, it has all the dispatches of the Associated Press from every part of the United States, and also the Associated Press dispatches received by the Atlantic Cable; and the news from all parts of Europe brought by the steamers, is instantly telegraphed from whatever point the steamer first touches.
The Weekly Age will be a complete compendium of the news of the week, and besides the leading editorials from the Daily, will contain a large amount of interesting matter prepared expressly for the weekly issue. It will be in all respects a first-class family journal, particularly adapted to the Politician, the Farmer, the Merchant, the Family Circle, and the General Reader, having, in fact, every characteristic of a live newspaper. At an early day will be begun an intensely interesting serial, by one of the most popular and fascinating authors, and it is also the intention to publish, from week to week, in the course of the year, three or four of the best and latest novels.

ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS are still ahead of all competitors and stand unrivalled in POWER, PURITY OF TONE and BRILLIANCY, and all other points which go to make a first-class instrument.
The "VOX HUMANA TREMOLO" is the greatest of all modern improvements on reed instruments. It CHARMS and SURPRISES all who hear it, by its wonderful resemblance to the HUMAN VOICE. Do not confound this with the common tremolo in use. It is entirely different, and far superior to any other.

The effect of your "Tremolo" is entirely new to me, and is certainly the best I ever heard.—GEO. W. MORGAN. [The first Organist of America.
No Tremolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—WM. A. JOHNSON. Pipe Organ Builder.
Estey's Cottage Organs are without a superior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class—GEO. JARDINE, Pipe Organ Builder.
The Cotttge Organ is the best of its class I ever saw, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. HEINTZ, Organist, Findlay, O.
I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—BISHOP SIMPSON.
We know no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—INDEPENDENT.
For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—METHODIST.
Persons wishing to purchase an organ are requested to examine the Estey instruments now in use at the Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches, Bedford, Pa. jul26,'67

MEDICAL.—DR. A. S. SMITH, having resumed the Practice of Medicine, solicits a generous share of the patronage of the community. Office in his residence, at St Clairsville.
He would call the attention of the public, and to those more immediately interested to the following: His health being too delicate to bear much of the fatigues and exposures consequent on general practice, he has adopted a speciality in the profession.
Soon after commencing practice, some twenty years since, he was attracted by the almost universality of female complaints, both in the married and single state. Partly from natural inclination, and in order to obtain success in practice, these complaints were made the subject of incessant study. These alterations, displacements and deranged functions of the organs peculiar to the female, are owing to that refined sense of delicacy on the part of the female, who, ignorant of the consequences, prefers to suffer in silence rather than expose her situation. Seldom cured by the general practitioner, who is prevented by this delicacy from acquiring by experience that tact and skill necessary to discriminate the exact change present, and contents himself with prescribing for the deranged functions, or overlooking the cause, simply for attendant nervous disorders, founding his prescriptions on a Plethoric Anaemonic state of the general system and the result is no benefit, as the number of the long suffering females bears ample testimony. Believing that he has, from long and special attention paid to them, acquired that skill in discriminating and experience in treating, he solicits the suffering to give him a call. No charges for consultation or examination. Visits made to all parts of the county.
Applications for medicines can be made in writing by accompanying stamp for return letter.—Medicines sent when desired. TERMS invariably cash for all medicines and instruments.

CULVERWELL, M. D., Author of the "Green Book, &c.
The world-renowned author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of Self-Abuse may be radicallycured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife—pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. Publications.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requsite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with conscientious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest, because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York ARGUS has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political agricultural, financial, literary, etc.

In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the WEEKLY WORLD.
The SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The DAILY WORLD affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day.
